

SOUND BITE

Tasty Ministry of Sound girl Elli Bennett reveals her CD side

THERE you are, calmly watching TV, when the lithe form of 25-year-old Elli Bennett appears, dancing sensuously around the fire at a beach party. What can she want, you wonder, spilling Doritos on the dog. She wants you to buy a Ministry of Sound doof compilation, that's what. And you know she'll win you over.

Is that a realistic party, or a party in heaven?

It's definitely a party in heaven. That's what it's supposed to be.

If you have this CD on, lots of girls, and a beach and a fire...

That's what's going to happen, yup.

Did you ever listen to it?

Yeah, of course, it's the best CD of the year.

Or any year, possibly. Have you ever been to a party like this?

Well, this is how it usually starts off.

Oh? And how does it end?

You just have to use your imagination.

I haven't got one. Can you tell me?

[Laughs] Oh, no. Um... beach, bikinis...

I'm sure you can go from there.

I'm sorry, I just haven't been to a party in a while.

[Laughter] Cheeky thing.
