

lingerie and swimsuit campaigns they want real breasts, and the majority of the girls out there are enhanced in some way or another.

Really?

Yeah, it's really scary. Once, I was doing a big swimsuit campaign casting and you had to sign something stating whether your breasts were real or not. At that point, more than half the girls left. Then they made everyone lie down to see if your boobs fell to the side or not. Anyway – I got the job.

So fake boobs...

...just stay there, yeah. It was a pretty demeaning exercise, but this is what you've got to do, you know.

Want to dispel any other rumours about yourself?

The most hurtful and bitchy ones about sleeping around and stuff.

Who spreads it?

Guys who say that they've slept with me. My sister overheard a guy talking about me, and saying where he took me on a date, and that he'd slept with me. She went up and said, "There's someone on the phone for you," and let me speak to him on her mobile. The guy just went bright red. I've only been out with three guys in the last 10 years.

What else do you hear about yourself?

I heard I wasn't allowed into a party, and tried to punch the bouncer and threatened that the party's host – a make-up artist – would never work on my face again. In fact we rocked up with invites and the girl on the door said, "No, sorry, you can't come in." So we left, and it turns out the host hadn't even been told we were there and wondered why we hadn't come. The girl at the door had called up the press and told her that story.

Damn her. What do you think is the key to good sex?

Communication. And being honest with yourself, which is pretty scary.

Especially if you're a bit kinky.

[Laughs] I didn't mean it like that. I meant really looking into who you are and what you want. Sometimes it's easier not to talk about it.

So if I want to bring a chicken into the bedroom, just say so?

If you want to bring a chick into the bedroom?

Not a chick, a chicken.

Chicken?! I don't know, I'm not getting involved with this stuff. You deal with it.

I have to deal with my chicken situation on my own?

I'm afraid so.
